

Christmas Trees Grow on Farms...

...In New York State

There are 875 Christmas tree farms in New York State, ranking NYS as 4th in the nation in number of tree farms.

New York State Christmas tree farms cover more than 18,600 acres.

Over 274,000 Christmas trees were harvested in New York State in 2012, adding nearly $9 million to the state's economy.

...And in almost every other state in the US

There are over 15,000 Christmas tree farms in the United States today. Nearly 100,000 people are employed full or part-time in the US Christmas tree industry.

Over 300,000 acres across the nation are currently being used for Christmas tree production.

Close to 350 million trees are growing on US Christmas tree farms; and about 30 million real trees are harvested and sold each year.
